DEDICATION

To the Youth of Lead High School who have worked, played, and dreamed within its walls; to the happiness they have found; to the achievements they attained; to the future that is theirs; we, the 1934 staff, dedicate this Goldenlode.

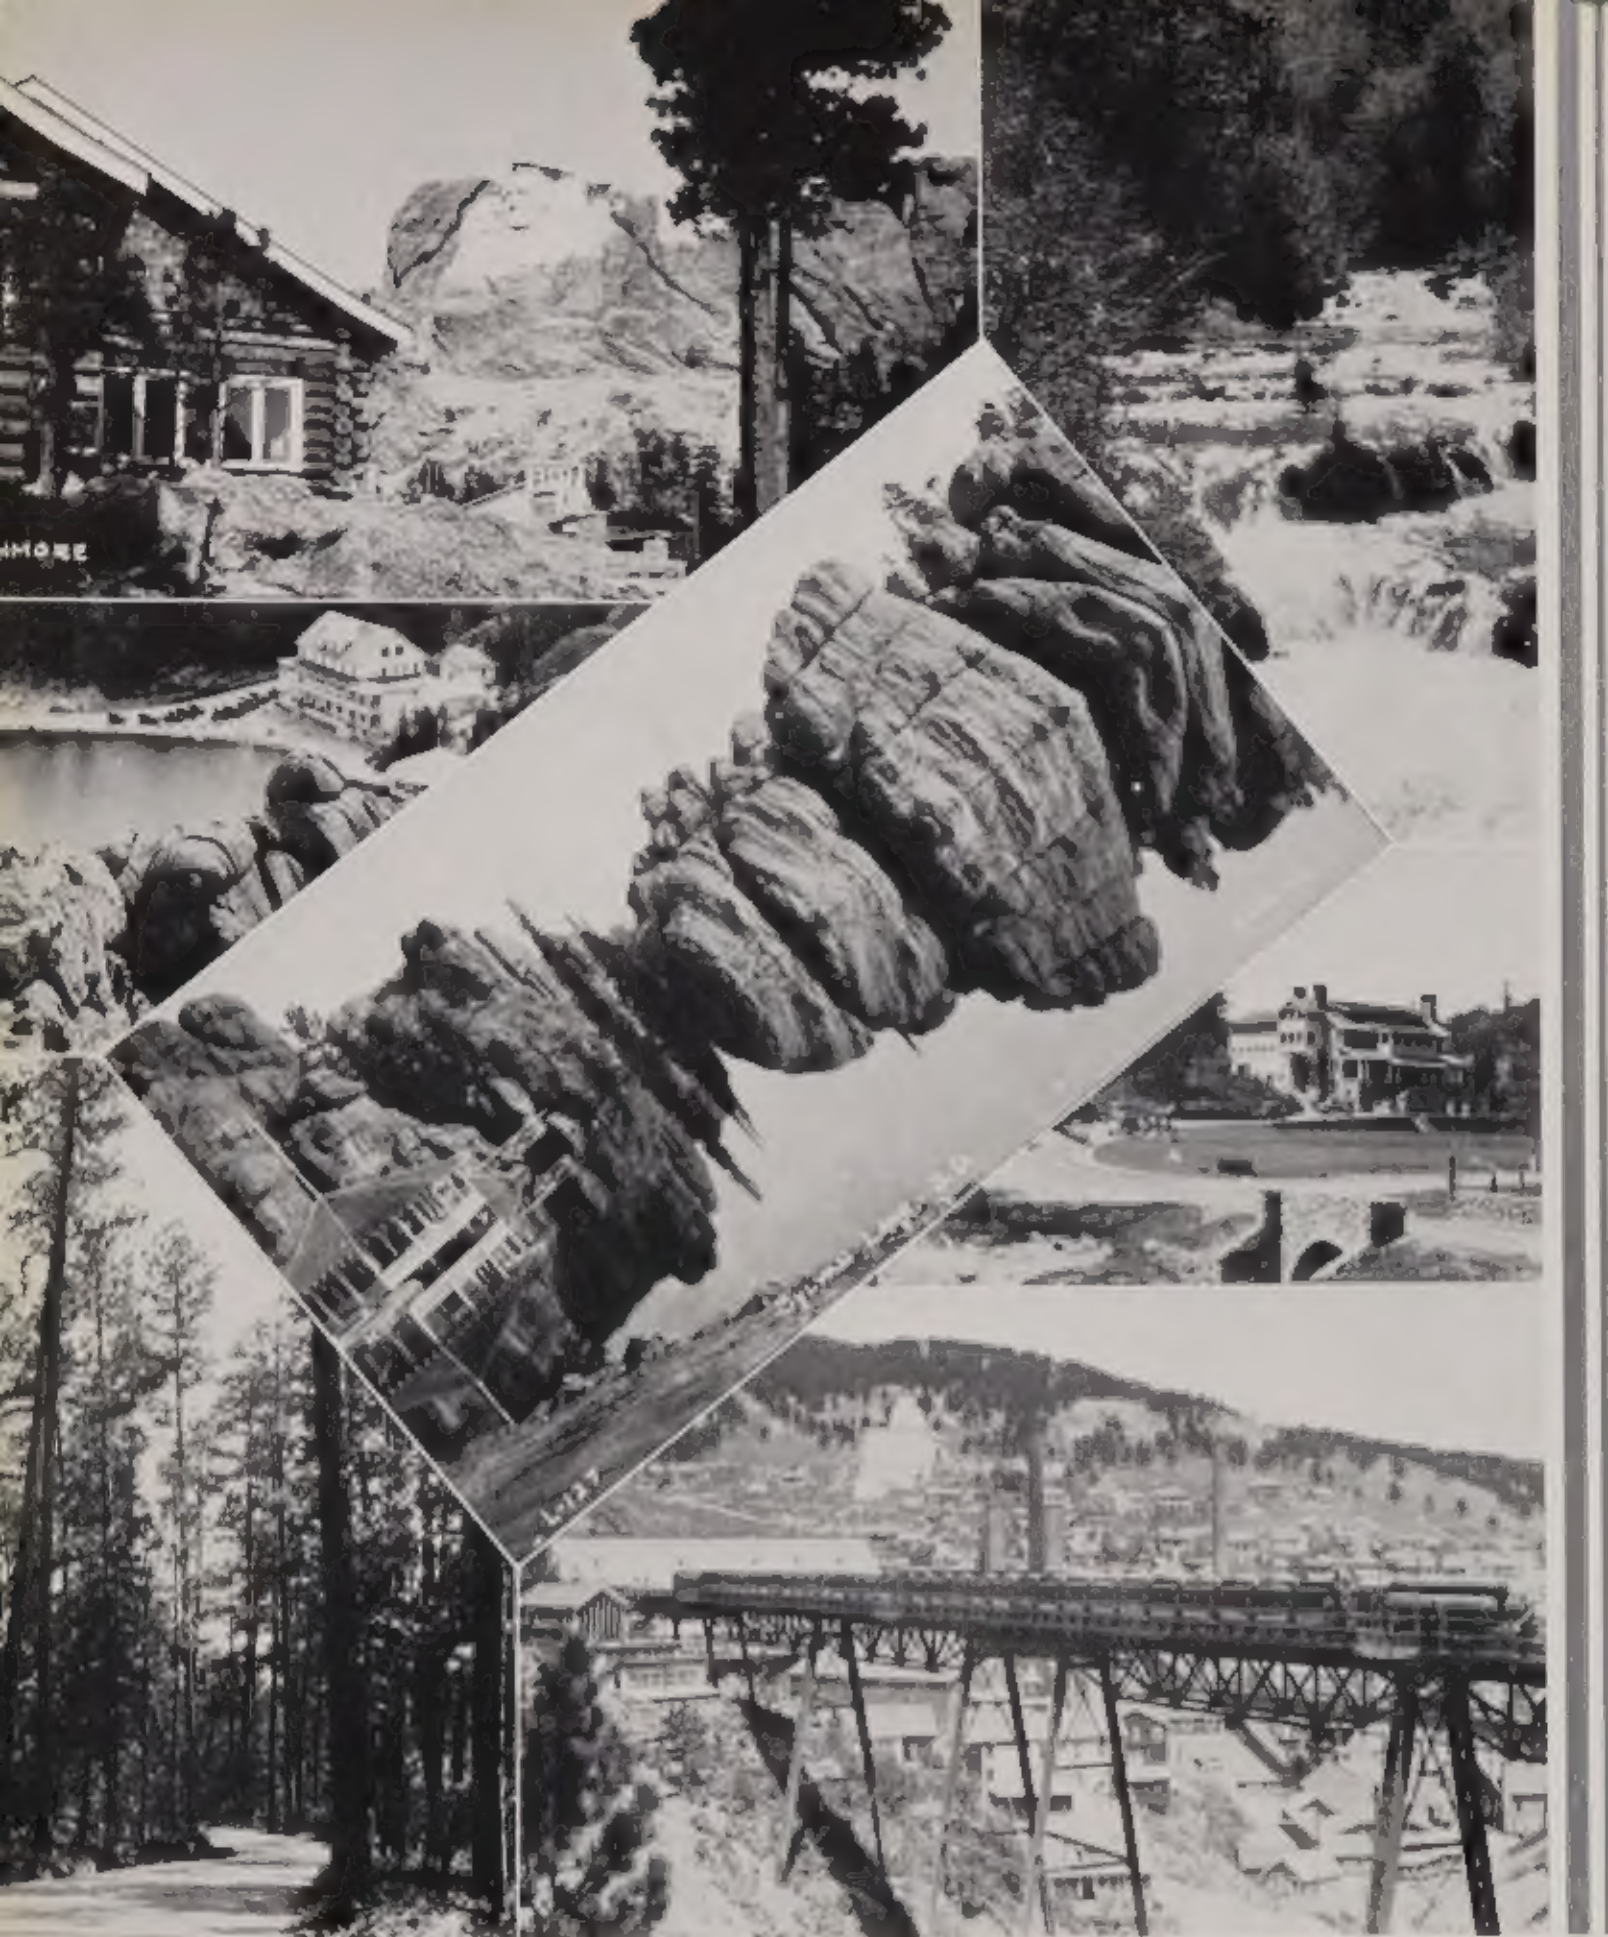

Dear Jack
we have something to remember hasn't we.
as always
E. Smith

FOREWARD

Though future years may take the young folk of Lead High School far apart; though miles of land and sea, of thought and circumstance, may separate them; may they remain together forever in the memories recalled through the pages of this book.

IN THE HILLS

The shadow crawls up canyon walls; the rim rocks flush to pink

A sleepy night hawk lurches up among the pines to soar,
And we can hear a thirsty deer tiptoeing down to drink
Among the glimmering birches on hazy canyon floor.

—Badger Clark.

Youth

The youth of our country are its hope. Older people have managed affairs poorly. The nation has suffered the most severe depression of history. Millions have been in want in the midst of plenty, because of the greed and lust and weakness of those in places of commercial and industrial leadership. The worst of the depression appears to be over. A new day is breaking. To handle this new day more wisely, more humanely, more in keeping with the principles of equal rights for all, we need the vigor and vision of youth. There have not been for many generations the opportunities for success and service that confront the youth of today who are about to step into places of command.

Youth Must Choose

Youth looks forward to, and must confront the problems of the future. Because the problems are new, and because civilization has developed so many changes in the old standards of living, the youth of today is tempted to disregard all contributions of the past as outworn and useless equipage. But the past of two thousand years ago contributed certain principles of ethics which have stood the test of time. A certain Jewish reformer named Paul wrote to his friends of Phillippi, Macedonia, on what to choose. We offer this advice to the youth of 1934 as a guide for today

"Finally brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report, if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think of these things."

Students' Association

Providing and making arrangements for assemblies, dances, debates, and other entertainments, as well as forming the student governing body of the school, the Students' Association has become the nucleus of high school activities.

This year the officers of the association were: president, Robert Ayer; junior vice-president, Albert Cetto; sophomore vice-president, Marion Lucca; freshman vice-president, Walter Ruzick; and secretary, Tessie Musso.

The chairman of the social committee was James Jelbert; of the assembly committee, Bronko Dangubich; of the forensic committee, Mildred Faulkner; of the girls' athletic committee, Dolly Ruzick; of the boys' athletic committee, Lee Barrett; of the instrumental music committee, Norman Wayland; of the vocal music committee, Kathlyn Ellis; of the welfare committee, Robert Calhoon.

Nugget

With its latest achievement being a first place among South Dakota high school newspapers in the annual contest sponsored by the South Dakota Press Association, the Nugget is fast gaining a state-wide reputation. Last year's paper, edited by Gilbert Millett, had the honor of reaching the top. The Nugget has also held a First Class Honor rating in the National Scholastic Press Association contest for the past several years.

Nugget

Announcing important school activities, expressing student opinion on different phases of school life, and presenting humorous incidents of school days, the Nugget, Lead High's bi-weekly publication, has proved popular with students and townspeople.

This year, through the Activity Plan, the Nugget has been able to reach a larger percentage of students than ever before and thus has proved increasingly valuable in the cooperation of school authorities and pupils.

Debate

By out-arguing Sioux Falls, Clark, and Philip, the debaters chalked up a third place in the state tournament held at Brookings on March 26, 27, 28. Ayer and Shipp, Lead representative duo, at this contest were bettered only by Watertown and Aberdeen; and both losses were by split decisions in the semi-round robin elimination.

After the interclass tourney in December which was won by the above team of juniors a squad of seven speakers was chosen by Coach Kolberg to argue on the state radio question in the inter one round competition. These platform persuaders were paired into three teams that divided the many debates of the schedule and convinced the judges in a greater number of cases than the opposing logicians. Team number one was composed of the artists, Darrel Ayer and Robert Shipp. The second team, James Jelbert and Kenneth Anderson, were outstanding as newcomers in the game. Team number three was made up of Ralph Cardinal, Beryl Reed, and Henry Van Noy, who alternated. Each of these arguers merited a forensic "I" for his consistent work. Jelbert, Anderson, and Reed are seniors; the others all have another season to lean on the easel and impose their wordy opinions on the gullible public.

Besides the regular schedule, Mr. Kolberg's gesturing prodigies engaged in two practice tournaments at Spearfish and Deadwood, preparatory to the district contest. They downed all comers at the Spearfish series and tied with Sturgis for honors at the down gulch radio discussion.

On Feb. 24, Ayer and Shipp, having been chosen to fill the berths on the tournament team, went into the district contest. They drew a bye in the first round. In the afternoon they romped through the Sturgis duo and in the evening displayed their supremacy over the hills teams by conquering Spearfish in the finals, thus qualifying the Ayer-Shipp for the state flight.

Question: Resolved, that the United States should adopt the essential features of the British System of radio control and operation.

Quill and Scroll

Reorganizing a society once active in Lead High School, ten high school journalists were initiated into the Quill and Scroll, international honorary journalistic society, in January, 1934.

Under the leadership of Miss Estelle Anderson, a new society was organized and has been doing active work in journalism throughout the school year. The initiation of the ten new members took place at an impressive candlelight ceremony. The rituals were performed by Lead High School alumni, members of the Quill and Scroll Society. As each member was initiated, he was presented with a little gold pin bearing the emblem of the society, the quill and scroll, the prize sought by every school journalist.

Membership in the society is based on outstanding work on either of the school's publications, the Nugget or the Goldenlode, and includes both the editorial and business staffs. A candidate for membership must pass four difficult tests: he must be scholastically in the upper one-third of his class; he must have the recommendation of the sponsor of the local chapter; and he must be approved by the national secretary.

The ten students who passed the required tests and were admitted into the organization were: Winifred Andrews, Richard Bothwell, Robert Calhoon, Dalmer Cox, Bronko Dangubich, Regina Hunkins, James Jelbert, Marjorie Lahti, Gladys Shaffer, and Patricia Trewick.

Officers elected to serve during the first year of the chapter's rejuvenation were: President, Regina Hunkins; Vice-President, Robert Calhoon; Secretary, Patricia Trewick; and Treasurer, Dalmer Cox.

L Club

To be a member of the "L" Club is the ambition and desire of every boy interested in athletics in Lead high. The achievement, because of certain requirements, is gained only by the most talented. The necessary requirements are: 12 quarters in football, 16 quarters in basketball, or 5 points in track.

The "L" Club first took form in 1920 and since that time to the present there are only 150 members who have fulfilled the necessary obligations. Regular meetings are held to discuss business which may arise. During the school year this organization sponsors a dance, takes charge of corridor traffic, and supervises fire drills.

Coach Dunmire, with the assistance of Coaches Bell, Fitcher, and Cartwright, comprised the coaching staff of the 1933-34 athletic season. Each boy in the course of his athletic career is handled by each of these coaches. R. G. Cartwright, who handles them first, teaches them the fundamentals and sees to it that they get the right start. From his department they go through Fitcher who has charge of third teams, to Coaches Dunmire and Bell, to whom lies the job of making refined athletes out of the scrub material and to develop teams capable of representing the high school. This method of coaching has proved to be highly successful.

Albert Cetto, football captain, proved his worth as an athlete by being selected on the All-Hills football team. His interest in training and teammates was good and it can be easily said that he set a "good example" for his teammates.

Raymond Piersall and Robert Kane, the only two track lettermen, were elected to the posts of field and track captain respectively by the "L" Club.

Playing his second year as guard in the regulars, "Brink" Dangubich led his teammates through a successful season with his cool ball handling and steady guarding.

Fourth Row: SARICH, MASTHOVICH, STORSVE, TOSCANO, KOTT, BRZICA, BROWN, ECKER, GAMMON. Third Row: DUPRAS, DAISE, BULAT, MAGERS, POPPLETON, BARKER, GROVE, CALHOON, PAVLACKY. Football

Starting the season with a nucleus of five lettermen: Cetto, Schmidt, Laurenti, Charlson, and Peterson. Coaches Dunmire and Bell built up a team which, although it did not come up to expectations, was as good as could be expected due to the fact that more green material appeared in the starting lineup than ever before.

The Golddiggers, however, showed marked improvement during the latter part of the season, and with eleven lettermen back next year, fans can look forward to a team that will measure up to the usual L. H. S. standard.

THE HOT SPRINGS GAME—GOLDDIGGER DAY

Football Lettermen

LEE BARRETT

Unfortunately, Lee was injured in mid-season, but he proved his worth in the games in which he was able to play

BOB BARKER

With eagerness to be a member of the squad, Bob did his best, and proved a valuable addition

"CHIC" BECKLEY

Coming from South Bend, Indiana, "Chic" brought with him the necessary requisites for holding down the signal calling position

"RED" CHARLSON

Dependable! His huge frame opened many holes and stopped many a foeman. Tackling, blocking and good team spirit were his strong points.

BOB CALHOON

His exceptional team spirit and willingness to "stick it out" entitled him to become a member of the "L" Club

THE NEWCASTLE GAME

Football Lettermen

"SONNY" GAUGHEN

A senior and his first year on the team, "Sonny" did his bit in a sure dependable way.

"BRINK" DANGUBICH

Playing a good game at end, "Brink" made a name for himself as a hard hitting tackler, blocker, and pass receiver.

BOB KANE

Hard blocking, punting, and ability to call signals are the tactics which entitled Bob to a position in his Junior year.

"SYD" GERRANS

Syd earned his position by good pass receiving, hard tackling, and blocking. He'll be missed at the other end of the aerial attack.

"BEEBE" NYBERG

Accurate passing earned "Beebe" a position in the backfield. His passing will take to the air again next fall.

"RAMO" LAURENTI

Small and shifty, "Ramo" made the many needed yards when his signal was called.

THE GILLETTE GAME

Football Lettermen

ALFRED PETERSON

Playing his second year on the squad, "Pete" was very dependable with the ability to "plug up" opposing holes

MARVIN PAVLACKY

Coming from Lusk, Wyoming "Pavy" fought hard and found a position on the Mucker's squad

"SNOOKS" SCHMIDT

"Snooks", a two-year letterman, was selected on the All Hill's team. Opposing players see trouble ahead with him back again, this time as captain

"POP" POPPLETON

Bashful, but full of fight, "Pop" was always ready to do his part. His name will appear in the lineup again next season

ALBERT STABIO

The tougher the game the better Stabio liked it. This fighting spirit earned him a steady position at the guard post.

EVERETT SHOCKEY

Light, but gritty and determined "Shock" came through his first year with flying colors. He will be heard from again next season

BARRETT, MAGERS, MINERICH, DANGUBICH, SHOCKEY, SCHMIDT, NYBERG, MARTA, ECKER, ROLANDO

First Team Basketball

With but two lettermen, Captain Bronko Dangubich and Leroy Marta, to start the season, Coaches Dunmire and Bell had a real job on their hands in selecting and building up a quintet to face the usual tough schedule. However, they did some fast work and put out a winning five early in the season. That the Muckers came out at the top in 14 out of 16 games, shows the success of their work. The Diggers lost only to Huron and Rapid City, thus tying for the Conference Cup with Rapid City and tying with Vale for the Journal Cup.

The Vale quint upset all advanced tournament dope by taking the Leadites in the final game.

Nevertheless fans state that this years' team was one of the fastest, smoothest, and best spirited teams in years.

Basketball Lettermen

LEE BARRETT

Guard

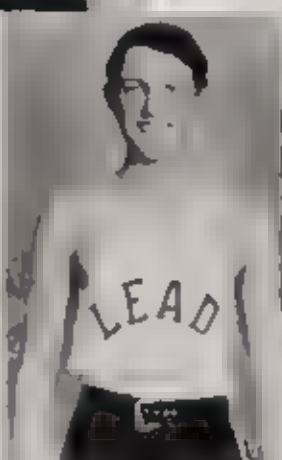

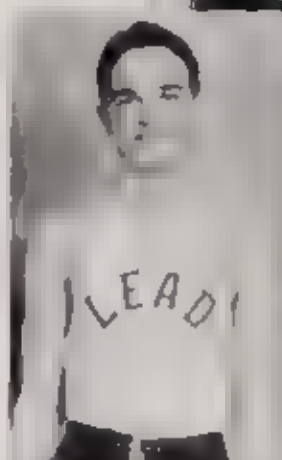

His ability to get the tip off and his team spirit made him a valuable asset to the Digger Quint. The tournament team missed him in the lineup when he was laid up with illness.

BRONKO DANGUBICH

Captain—Guard

Bronk's keen team spirit along with his marked offensive and defensive play, made him a well liked captain. He set a good example for the squad.

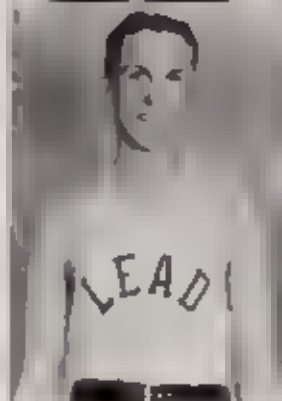

FRANK ECKER

Guard

Green, but with plenty of ability, Frank came along fast. He'll be a valuable player next year.

ROBERT MAGERS

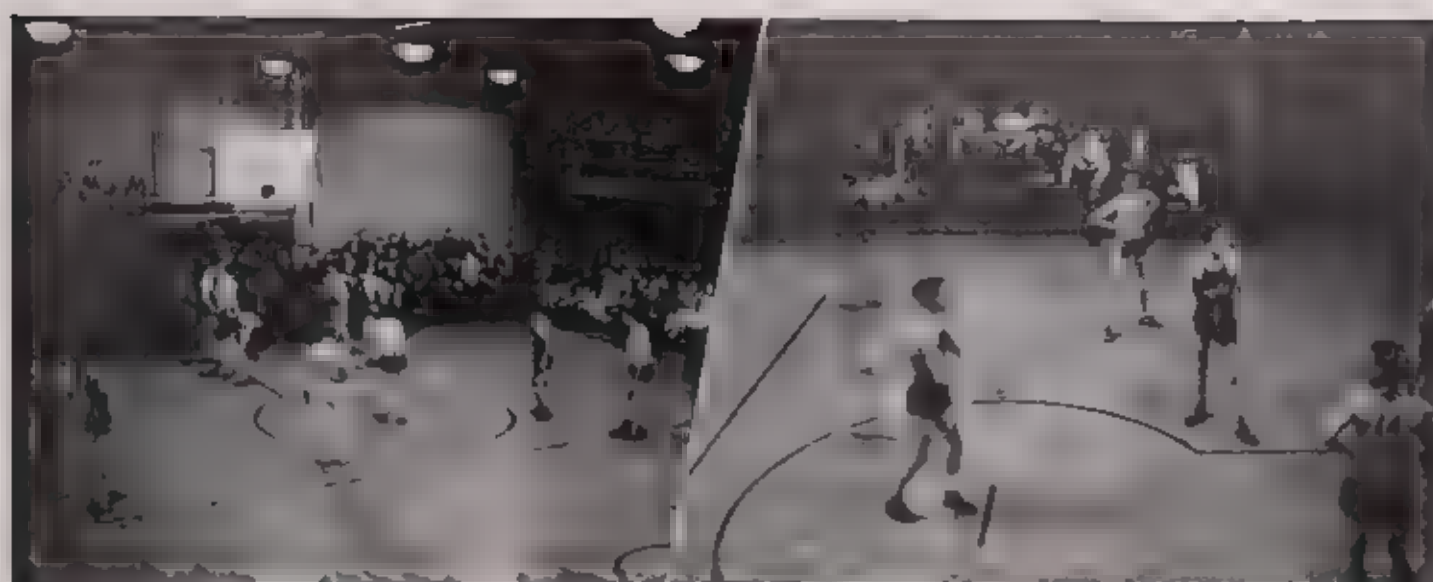

Mage played in only a few games but he played hard and did his best, and he won a letter.

LEROY MARTA

Forward

Small, but shifty and fast, Marta, a two year letterman made a fool out of many defensive guards. He played exceptionally well in the District Tourney.

Basketball Lettermen

JOHN "EVO" MINERICH
Center

"Evo", one of the Goldiggers' best on offense, was high scorer for the season. As he was the cog of this year's team, he'll be missed in the lineup next year.

HUBERT "BEEBEN"
NYBERG
Guard

"Beeben" played like a veteran during his first year on the squad, shining up exceptionally on the defensive. Fans will see more of him.

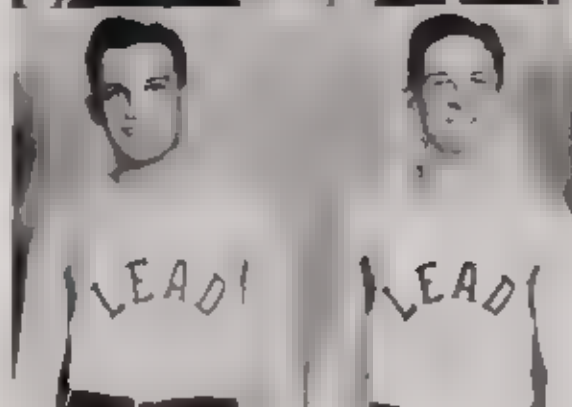

HERMAN "BAM"
ROLANDO
Forward

Short, but always doing a man sized job, "Bam" and his "dead eye" came through with a high scoring average.

WILLIAM "SNOOKS"
SCHMIDT
Guard

Playing a good defensive brand of ball "Snooks" was always ready to go in when needed. He'll be in the lineup next season.

EVERETT "SHOCK"
SHOCKEY
Forward

"Shock's" aggressiveness earned him a position on the Digger Quint. He will be stellar material for the 1935 squad.

JUNIORS FRESHMEN
SENIORS GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION SOPHOMORES

G. A. A.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Siple, physical training instructor, the G. A. A.—Girls' Athletic Association—has seen another active year.

Through points gained in hiking, basketball, volleyball, baseball, and track, Dolly Ruzick and Mary Jane Beckley, were awarded the highest honor possible—a Senior Award. Tessie Musso, Georgia Hackett, and Ruth Kellogg received Junior Awards.

The officers who guided the organization through this year's activities were Dolly Ruzick, president; Ruth Kellogg, vice-president; and Mary Jane Beckley, secretary.

Girls' Basketball

In the annual girls' basketball tournament this year, the senior girls' defeated the freshmen, thus carrying off the honors of the tourney. The seniors were captained by Dolly Ruzick, while Shirley Lindquist led the freshman team. Other teams represented were the juniors; captain, Freida Chase; and the sophomores; captain, Tessie Musso.

An All High-School team was selected from the class teams and, under the leadership of Ruth Kellogg, played several successful games with the Girls' Independent Town Team.

Girls who gained the honor of representing the school in these outside games were: Ruth Kellogg, Tessie Musso, Dolly Ruzick, Mary Jane Beckley, Marian Manseau, and Margaret Nyberg.

MUSIC

MAY E MARTIN
Vocal Director

HENRY P. ELSTER
Instrumental Director

Under the direction of Miss May Martin and Mr. Henry Elster, the vocal and instrumental music departments are two of the most active in the school.

The Boys' and Girls' Senior Glee Clubs have appeared on several school programs, and the two octettes have furnished music for many outside organizations as well as for the school. The biggest event of the year came in the spring when the vocal music department presented the light opera, "Maritana" by Wallace.

As a pit orchestra for the different school performances, the Theatre Orchestra has filled its niche in the affairs of the school, while the Pep Band has proved indispensable at the athletic contests. The Concert Band and Orchestra have given several concerts for the entertainment of the school students and patrons.

Both departments climaxed the year at the annual Music Festival in Rapid City, May 5.

SEPT. 5, 1933—Lead High's lads and lasses celebrate as vacation ends. Over five hundred students anxiously await the opening of doors.

SEPT. 20, 1933—Thilly, Frosh Thalute Thuperior Theniors. Short pants, all day suckers, and old tires abound.

OCT. 13, 1933—A Queen reigns (the field, however, was fairly dry); enthusiasts dig up enough old oil and rags to make the "L" burn. Dancers dig dough in order to dance and another successful "Digger-Day" ends.

NOV. 23, 24, 1933 — Juniors present "Green Stockings". All greenness of actions was evidently bequeathed to the Frosh.

NOV. 30, 1933—All students take time out to talk turkey. Debate squad all ill from over-indulgence.

DEC. 21, 1933 — Depression hits high school. Principal Curran lays five hundred workers off until after holidays.

DEC. 28, 1933—Seniors entertain "old grads" with the customary holiday hop. Well-worn apparel is discarded and new Christmas clothes are worn well.

JAN. 18, 19, 1934—A new year dawned, students yawn, burn much midnight oil, and sigh sorrowfully as they flunk their semester exams.

JAN. 20, 1934—A "Back to Nature Movement" prevails throughout Lead High. The gym turns barnish, and the "Hicks" and "Hickesses" slither about in aprons and overalls. Alls in alls it was a great dance.

Calandar of Events

FEB. 23, 1934—Diggers hobble Cobblers here. Score 24-13. Locals lose later Score, Vale 45, Lead 35.

FEB. 23, 24, 1934—Shipp and Ayer win Regional Debate Championship. Pile into Mr. Kolberg's car and leave for State where they take third place

MAR. 20, 21, 1934—Martin's musical maestros make magnificent music in making "Maritana".

APRIL 19, 21, 1934—Seniors join juniors in free feed. Entire high school joins juniors in attempts at terpsichorean art

MAY 5, 1934—Maroon and White music makers take part in Music Festival. Bandsters blew no blue notes, making it a red-letter music day.

MAY 11, 1934—Seniors play to packed house, bring down the house with "Tiger House".

MAY 12, 1934—Having tracked snow into the gym every night the tracksters treck to warmer climes and a Regional meet at Rapid

MAY 16, 17, 1934—Exhibitors and contributors, contribute and exhibit to visitors.

MAY 29, 1934—Seniors sigh and commence to consider as high school ends and life commences.

ARE BANKERS COLD?

A BANKER who has a glass eye tells a good joke on himself. A youngster was trying to sell him a subscription to a magazine he had no desire to read. "Mister," the urchin piped up, "I can tell which is your glass eye."

The banker was startled. "How?" he demanded. "Because it looks more sympathetic than your real eye," the boy explained.

Sometimes a prospective borrower feels that his banker is cold, but as a matter of fact a banker considers it a pleasure and a privilege to make a good loan. If he does the borrower a favor, the borrower does the banker an even greater favor, for interest on the loan produces revenue for the bank.

But a banker, unlike the business or professional man, is not responsible to himself alone. He must think of his stockholders and his depositors. He has no moral or legal right to take chances.

The training, experience and great responsibility of the banker make it worth while for any business man to court his friendship. And your banker appreciates friends. Necessity places him often on the defensive, but he doesn't like to say NO and he thoroughly enjoys saying YES!

YOUTH

Build in your dreams a future time
And build it as you wish it, too.
Picture it often, high and fair;
And then just hold it always there.

Remember, only building thus
Can life's attainments come to us.
Who builds no castles in the air
Will build no castles anywhere.

With the completion of our book, the 1934 Goldenlode Staff extends its appreciation to all who have made this Goldenlode possible, and wishes heartily that the students who live between these covers shall attain the heights to which they aspire, and in so doing set the pace for the Youth of to-morrow.
